

Matilda FoodTech accelerates its mission to empower a sustainable foodservice industry in Europe by a strategic acquisition of Herrlich & Ramuschkat in Germany

Matilda FoodTech, offering Nordic's leading platform for Food Service Resource Management, has during the past 30 years served the Nordic food service industry deliver healthier, sustainable meals. With the acquisition of Herrlich & Ramuschkat, the two companies will combine their forces to help their customers provide healthy and tasty meals, while ensuring them to operate as cost efficiently and environmentally soundly as possible.

"The food industry is under pressure," says Erik Bergseth, CEO of Matilda FoodTech. "It needs to meet environmental obligations, to cater for diverse dietary needs, to be transparent when it comes to food sourcing and nutritional benefits. And all this while demonstrating efficiency saving and increasing profitability. Matilda was created to solve these challenges, and we're now seeing an increased demand for our type of solution across Europe. We've been looking for a partner to continue our mission in Europe and we're very happy to have found Herrlich & Ramuschkat. They have a highly skilled team and an excellent solution." Bergseth adds.

Herrlich & Ramuschkat is a leading supplier of software, expert services and support for the food service industry in the DACH region, offering their solution to company restaurants, catering operations and elderly care centres.

"Matilda FoodTech is a perfect match for us," says Markus Herrlich, CEO of Herrlich & Ramuschkat "Together we will enter into a context where we can deliver the best solution to the food service industry. We will be part of a large and expanding environment that provides new opportunities and exciting challenges for our employees."

Herrlich & Ramuschkat will continue to deliver MBS5 and cloudMenu to its customers, as a part of the Matilda Food Service Resource Management (FSRM) platform.
